

HARBOR MOON

by Mark Keathley

Feb 2016

The Harbor Moon rises over the beacon light drawing folks from distant lands and ports where they can tell their tales of adventure and meet the need of the heart – to connect with another soul in a harsh world. Feel the presence of laughter and far away adventure when the captains of these vessels meet up over a hot meal in a dimly lit tavern and connect for a while before the sea calls them out again.
