

FREEDOM

by Abraham Hunter

Oct 2016

As I painted this piece, I was inspired by the scripture in Isaiah that “those who wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall soar with wings like eagles”. The more I painted on it, I saw a dual meaning. I love my country, and the eagle is our national symbol of strength and freedom. With this bitter election on all our minds, I hope that this painting reminds us that even though we are blessed to live here, our true strength and freedom is in Jesus. The storm clouds symbolize the darkness and division that try to hide the light. But the majestic rays of Gods love burst forth and give us light and hope. I hope you all are like this eagle, no matter what, you’ll fly powerfully into the light, above life’s problems, and soar upward to the heavens.
